What do we do?

2D Animation 3D Animation

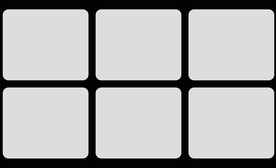
Short animated films in 3D

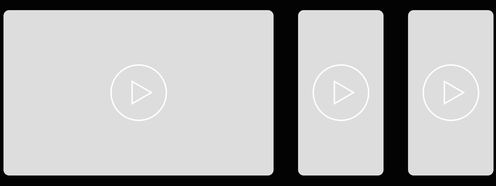
Our favorite technique is 3D animation. With it, we can tell your stories in short, medium, and feature-length pieces, ideal for promoting brands or ideas with a significant impact in commercials for TV and cinema, short films for screening in theaters and platforms, or feature films for theaters and the internet.



Our Films

We invite you to watch our selection.

Some of our short films are about to premiere, while others are still in progress. We present them to you.



LOGO

We premiered in commercial movie theaters in Colombia in 2021 and in Spain in February 2022, soon to be available on digital platforms.

Tundama is the first film that rescues the Muisca language from central Colombia, declared extinct since the 18th century.

We present to you the official trailer.

At the beginning of the 16th century, a brave chieftain confronts the devastating arrival of the Spanish to his territories. Two children searching for their kidnapped sister find themselves in the midst of this clash of cultures, triggering battles where feelings and acts of bravery, betrayal, love, and greed are uncovered.

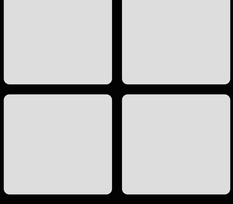
About Us

The Dagamedia Team

Our team is composed of an interdisciplinary group, including illustrators, modelers, animators, composers, and we have a fascinating stock of voices.

Directing projects

Graphic designers passionate about animation and creative productions, Edison and Diego Yaya founded Dagamedia in 2009. Since then, they have been dedicated to telling their own stories through animation and creating productions for companies and institutions in need. They continue to shape their future in the world of animation as an animation film company.



We are a 3D-2D animation company

We have dedicated several years of our creative activity to improve our processes and envision our future as an animation film production company. This includes the production of short films and feature films where we can bring our stories to life and share with audiences everything we have in mind.
